ISHEE

The surname Ishee is derived from the Old German name of "Esch" or "Esche." The family originates with Laurentius von der Eschen, who was juryman in 1644 in Frelenberg, in the district of Gelsenkirchen. The surname is much older than the 1600's but he is the earliest identified direct ancestor.

The family coat of arms, by tradition, has the uprooted stump of an ash tree on the shield, with a plume of three feathers on the crest, silver, black and silver. In L'Armorial General, by Johannes B. Rietstap, a similar arms is described with colors given: a gold tree stump on a black shield. This coat of arms was used in ancient times by the families of Eichler, Eschler, and related lines. The Esch/Esche families were probably connected to this family, and so used the coat of arms.

The surname ISHEE-ESCHE meant "dweller by an ash tree," a location name in Germany. The family is said to have lived in southwest Germany, in the Rhineland area.

THE ISHEE FAMILY

About the year 1812, three brothers - Jacob, John and Fred - entered the United States from Germany. Jacob, supposedly, settled in Marion County, John in Newton County and Fred went further north and was not heard from afterward. The families of Jacob and John each consisted of six children. The names of the children in each family are listed below, not necessarily in chronological order. Three of Jacob's sons married three of John's daughters.

I belive I have the answer to Fred Ishee. Sence John and Jacob are listed in Miss. in 1820 and no Fred, but in 1830 Frederick Ishea (he is not their son) and again in 1850 as F. Ishie Must be Frederick again. As he was born in Ga. in 1805, it seems Fred had married Esense before 1805. Who was born in Ga. By 1820 Fred had come to Miss. and died, leaving his wife Esnse and son Frederick. By the info. from the microfim Frederick had his mother, his children but no wife, she must have died too.

I shall put more study on this.

Ishee Family

So far as we know, three Ishee brothers, who lived near the border of Holland/Germany, and who were supposedly "boat-builders" (and one report said they made "broad-axes") came to the U.S. "about 1800" and landed in Florida, which was then Spanish Territory. They subsequently went inland to Georgia, and later to Mississippi. One of the brothers (Fred) "went north" and was not heard from again.

Ishee Family

About the year of 1812 there were three Ishee brothers that left Germany and came to the United States. Their names were: Jacob, John, and Fred. Jacob married and settled in Marion County, Mississippi, reared a family and died. there were six children: Jacob, Eli, William, George, Sam, and Mary. John settled in Newton County Mississippi, reared a family of six: Jerry, ^{^ ?} Gentry, Martha, Mary, Adline, and Amanda. The other brother went further north and wasn't heard of any more. Jacob's son Jacob, married John's daughter Martha. Eli married Adline. George married Mary. These were all first cousins. Sam married a Martin. Jacob and Martha settled in Newton County. There were ten children born to them. Their names were: George, Pheba, Frances, and Murry, Mary, Jeff, William, Sis, Jacob, Zack. Eli and Adline settled in Smith County. Six children were born to them. They were named: William, Jacob, John, Freeman, Zack, and Sarah.

George and Mary settled in Jones County. They reared three children. Their names were. Alfred, Frank, and Frances. Sam settled in Smith County and reared five children. They were William, George, Coop, Jim and Haner. William married and there were several children born to them. He died and his family moved to Texas. John's son Jerry settled in Newton County. Two children were born, they were Joseph and Murry. Gentry married and settled in Scott County. Two children were born. They were: John and Martha. Jacob's daughter, Mary married Jackson McKinley. Bert the only son and several girls were born to them.

Amanda married a McKinley. One son and one daughter were born to them. Their names were John and Amanda.

Out of all above named there are living today this the 26th day of July 1934 the following names of Jacob and Martha's children. George, Zack, Murry, Pheba, and Frances.

Eli and Adeline children: Jacob and Zack. There are two of Sams yet living: George and Haner. Amanda's son Warren is yet living. There is an unknown number of the offspring of the above named.

There was a Ishee Reunion organized in the year of 1928 and was held on Thanksgiving day in that year. The regular time was then set for the last Thursday in July and it has been held every year since. This sketch was gotten up from memory and is as nearly correct as is known to the writer. This gives all the generations from the fourth back to the time these three brothers left Germany.

Gotten up by: Garland Ishee

Louis, Mississippi

P. S. All the Ishee's are of German decent and are all kin folks.

All things exhorted

to praise the Lord.

10 Beasts, and all cattle; creeping things, and flying fowl:

11 Kings of the earth, and all people; princes, and all judges of the earth:

12 Both young men, and maidens; old men, and children:

13 Let them praise the name of the LORD: for his name alone is excellent; his glory is above the earth and heaven.

14 He also exalteth the horn of his people, the praise of all his saints; even of the children of Israel, a people near unto him. Praise ye the LORD.

PSALM CXLIX.

1 The psalmist exhorteth to praise God for his love to the church; 5 and for that power which he hath given to his saints.

PRAISE ye the LORD. Sing unto the LORD a new song, and his praise in the congregation of saints.

2 Let Israel rejoice in him that made him: let the children of Zion be joyful in their King.

3 Let them praise his name in the dance: let them sing praises unto him with the timbrel and harp.

4 For the LORD taketh pleasure in his people: he will beautify the meek with salvation.

5 Let the saints be joyful in glory: let them sing aloud upon their beds.

THE END.

6 Let the high praises of God be in their mouth, and a two-edged sword in their hand;

7 To execute vengeance upon the heathen, and punishments upon the people;

8 To bind their kings with chains, and their nobles with fetters of iron;

9 To execute upon them the judgment written: this honour have all his saints. Praise ye the LORD.

PSALM CL.

1 An exhortation to praise God, 3 with all kinds of instruments.

PRAISE ye the LORD. Praise God in his sanctuary: praise him in the firmament of his power.

2 Praise him for his mighty acts: praise him according to his excellent greatness.

3 Praise him with the sound of the trumpet: praise him with the psaltery and harp.

4 Praise him with the timbrel and dance: praise him with stringed instruments and organs.

5 Praise him upon the loud cymbals: praise him upon the high sounding cymbals.

6 Let every thing that hath breath praise the LORD. Praise ye the LORD.

THE BOOK OF PSALMS.

PSALM I.

1 The happiness of the godly. 4 The unhappiness of the ungodly.

BLESSED is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful.

2 But his delight is in the law of the Lord; and in his law doth he meditate day and night.

3 And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper.

4 The ungodly are not so: but are like the chaff which the wind driveth away.

5 Therefore the ungodly shall not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous.

6 For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the ungodly shall perish.

PSALM II.

1 The kingdom of Christ. 10 Kings are exhorted to accept it.

WHY do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing?

2 The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the Lord, and against his anointed, saying,

3 Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us.

4 He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision.

5 Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and vex them in his sore displeasure.

6 Yet have I set my king upon my holy hill of Zion.

7 I will declare the decree: the Lord hath said unto me, Thou art my Son; this day have I begotten thee.

8 Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession.

9 Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.

10 Be wise now therefore, O ye kings: be instructed, ye judges of the earth.

11 Serve the Lord with fear, and rejoice with trembling.

12 Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and ye perish from the way, when his wrath is kindled but a little. Blessed are all they that put their trust in him.

Description of the

REVELATION,

heavenly Jerusalem.

sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolyte; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, a topaz; the tenth, a chrysoprasus; the eleventh, a jacinth; the twelfth, an amethyst.

21 And the twelve gates were twelve pearls; every several gate was of one pearl: and the street of the city was pure gold, as it were transparent glass.

22 And I saw no temple therein: for the Lord God Almighty and the Lamb are the temple of it.

23 And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof.

24 And the nations of them which are saved shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it.

25 And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for there shall be no night there.

26 And they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it.

27 And there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie: but they which are written in the Lamb's book of life.

CHAPTER XXII.

1 The river of the water of life. 2 The tree of life. 5 The light of the city of God is himself. 9 The angel will not be worshipped. 18 Nothing may be added to the word of God, nor taken therefrom.

AND he shewed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb.

2 In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

3 And there shall be no more curse: but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it; and his servants shall serve him:

4 And they shall see his face; and his name shall be in their foreheads.

5 And there shall be no night there; and they need no candle, neither light of the sun; for the Lord God giveth them light: and they shall reign for ever and ever.

6 And he said unto me, These sayings are faithful and true: and the Lord God of the holy prophets sent his angel to shew unto his servants the things which must shortly be done.

7 Behold, I come quickly: blessed is he that keepeth the sayings of the prophecy of this book.

8 And I John saw these things, and heard them. And when I had heard and seen, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel which shewed me these things.

9 Then saith he unto me, See thou do it not: for I am thy fellow servant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of them

God's word is

not to be altered.

which keep the sayings of this book: worship God.

10 And he saith unto me, Seal not the sayings of the prophecy of this book: for the time is at hand.

11 He that is unjust, let him be unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

12 And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be.

13 I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.

14 Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city.

15 For without are dogs, and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie.

16 I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in the churches. I am the root and the offspring of David, and the bright and morning star.

17 And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely.

18 For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book:

19 And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book.

20 He which testifieth these things saith, Surely I come quickly: Amen. Even so, come, Lord Jesus.

21 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

LETTER OF 1865

Rev. H. R. Tolbert Given Glowing Recommendation at Close of War.

In examining the papers of the late Rev. H. R. Tolbert who died at his home near Edinburg a few weeks ago, his children found a letter of praise of his brave services during the civil war; this letter was signed by seven members of his company, as follows: "H. R. Tolbert enlisted in Company C. 41st Miss. Regiment, known as the color company, at Marion Station, Lauderdale county in Feb. 1862.

Takes Brave Part

"J. M. Hicks was captain of this company which later became a part of the regiment commanded by Col. W. F. Tucker, Anderson's brigade which constituted a part of the army commanded by Gen. Braxton Bragg until he was superceded by Gen. Joseph E. Johnstone. We all know how strenuous was the great part played by this command during the years of the great struggle against such fearful odds. In all that struggle none took a more consistent or braver part than the subject of this sketch. From Perryville, Ky., to the final surrender he participated in every battle in which his regiment was engaged save one, and was detained from that only by a wound that temporarily disabled his arm. He was wounded three times; at Poor House, at Chicamauga and at Jonesboro, Ga. There he was hit three times. In company with four others of his command he happened to strike an open place where the enemy's lead fell like hail; he was the only one of the five to get away alive, and his clothes were literally riddled. On that occasion twenty-seven men of his company went up to the breastworks of the enemy and only nine returned; a few surrendered, the rest were killed.

In Many Fights

"Soldier Tolbert took part in all the fights from Dalton to Atlanta, a period of eighty days of incessant conflict. That campaign was a memorable one because of the incessant fighting; no sterner ordeal was experienced throughout the war than this H. R. Tolbert has a record of service and self-sacrifice that should prove an inspiration to every boy who reads this, and this record will endure as a perpetual monument to a name and career adorned by noble deeds done out of love and conviction of duty.

2 KILLED, ELEVEN HURT WHEN BUS OVERTURNS

Driver Declares He Is Blinded By Undimmed Lights Of Approaching Car.

Newton, Miss., Oct. 15.—Two elderly Newton countians were killed outright and eleven others were seriously injured when a chartered school bus overturned early Saturday night two miles east of Forest.

D. B. Cullum, 78, and Mrs. Ida Ishee, 66, were killed instantly.

Most seriously injured of the eleven victims are Jim Rowzee, whose head is battered and lacerated with probable fractures, and Mary Lou Cullum, 19, whose injuries had not been determined; but who required prompt attention from hospital officials.

Among those injured were Miss Lillian Smith, who suffered cuts and bruises, and Miss Helen Cullum, 18, granddaughter of D. B. Cullum, who received a serious gash on the hip.

Other victims who are all suffering from back injuries, minor cuts and bruises, and severe shock, include the following: Howard Cullum, 17, Cecil Laird, 10, Mrs. J. S. Laird, 52, E. E. Eshee, Mrs. W. L. Smith, Clinton Harrison, and Martha Lou Eshee.

Hospital officials believed all victims have a fair chance for recovery.

The mishap occurred at about 7:30 P. M. Saturday when the school bus, which had been obtained by 23 Newton countians for an all-day trip to the Jackson fair, overturned in a deep roadside ditch.

Delmer Smith, brother of E. M. Smith, superintendent of Newton county schools, driver of the bus, was quoted as saying he was blinded by the s, undimmed lights of an approaching s, passenger car.

He was also quoted as saying the s, bus accidentally moved too far out on k the highway shoulder and crashed s down the embankment.

Dear Professor:

I have a lot-lot-lot of material on the ISHEE family. It is much too much to send to you at this time. I am in the process of putting it on my computer. When I get it on there, I will be happy to send you a copy. I have traced the family back to Switzerland in the early 1400's. Most of the families and related families come from an area called Oberbipp, Switzerland. I understand that family members of the same name are still in that area.

Mary was Mary Angeline Ishee, born in 1823 to Johannes (John C.) Ishee, son of Hans Ulrich Ischi, Jr. and Barbara Lang. Hans Ulrich Ischi, Sr. and his wife Elisabeth Alleman, Hans Ulrich Jr. and his wife with their five children entered the U. S in 1803. There were three boys, Johannes, Hans Jacob, and Frederick, and two daughters. I have found no records on the two daughters. The 3 boys came to Mississippi --there by 1820. I saw the name of Mary Jackson on the 1850 census, as well as Massey and Elizabeth, but I was unsure of who they were. I was not sure that the Mary was Mary Angeline. I have no marriage dates for the marriage of Mary Angeline and George W. Ishee. according to the dates on the 1860 census, the marriage must have taken place about 1850 or 1851. I did not know she may have been married before, Do you have proof of this? Family traditional stories make no mention of a previous marriage. I have found no marriage record for her to either Jackson or Ishee. I have found no connection to the Jackson family with the exception of the listing on the 1850 census. I really don't know if she is my Mary Angeline or not. I need to know what proof you have that she might be the wife of your Jackson.

Ishee Family

George W. Ishee was Mary Angeline Ishee first cousin. George was the son of Hans Jacob Ischi (mentioned above as an immigrant). Hans Jacob had three sons and Johannes had three daughters, and they each married their first cousins. In one line of this double kin, an illness has been discovered that may be inherited because of the double blood line. It is CMT. Duke University has been coming to the Ishee family reunions for the past several years collecting blood samples for the purpose of researching for the gene that may be a contributing factor to the disease.

The James Ishee you mentioned who had married Lucinda Keen was a brother to Mary Angelina. This is the only Ishee I have found to have married into the Keen family.

There are many people with the Ishee name in Mississippi and many I have not been able to put in the right family so far. That is because very little is known of the Frederick Ishee family, who moved to Neshoba and Attalia counties of Mississippi. I have the Johnnes (John) and Hans Jacob families together with minor exceptions. Some of the names you have mentioned are in one or the other of the families.

I hope I have been of some help. I will try to send you the family sheets I have if you need them.

PROTESTANT - The family originates from the Rhineland (South-west Germany) and starts off with Laurentius (Lens) Von Der Eschen, who was a juryman in 1644 in Frelenberg, in the district of Gelsenkirchen, which was in the County of Aachen. (Gelsenkirchen and Aachen are middle-sized towns which should be found on a good map of Germany).

This Laurentius, anyway, bottoms the family tree which can be proven by many documents.

COAT OF ARMS: In the stem it is an uprooted ash-tree stump with a leafed branch on each side. On that 3 peacock-feathers; silver, black, silver. There is a street in Mobile, AL named Ishee Street.

THE ISHEE FAMILY

About the year 1812, three borthers - Jacob, John, and Fred - entered the United States from Germany. Jacob, supposedly, settled in Marion County, John in Newton County, and Fred went further north and was not heard from afterward. The families of Jacob and John each consisted of six children. The names of the children in each family are listed below, not necessarily in chronological order. Three of Jacob's sons married three of John's daughters.

CHILDREN OF:

JACOB

1. Jacob B. B 3/26/1816
2. Eli
3. George
4. William
5. Sam
6. Mary

JOHN

1. Martha Angeline 4/11/1831
2. Adline
3. Mary
4. Jerry
5. Gentry
6. Amanda

Jacob's sons - Jacob, Eli, and George - married John's daughters - Martha, Adline, and Mary, respectively.

JACOB and MARTHA were married January 11, 1847. To them were born 10 children. Jacob B. Ishee was born March 26, 1815 and died in August, 1904. Martha Angeline Ishee was born April 11, 1831 and died January 7, 1897

1. Mary Magdalene	December 26, 1847	January 16, 1888
2. George Collins	December 12, 1849	1937
3. John Jefferson	January 7, 1852	November 29, 1926
4. William Clark	January 1, 1855	1871
5. Jacob B. Jr.	May 20, 1857	March 1920
6. Emily Susan	January 8, 1860	1866

8. Martha Phoebe Angeline	October 27, 1864	December 29, 1954
9. Arimathy Frances	Septmeber 26, 1867	July 25, 1962
10. Murry Gilmore	March 10, 1871	November 1965

So far as we know, three Ishee brothers, who lived near the border of Holland/Germany, and who were supposedly "boat-builders" (and one report said they made "broad-axes") came to the U.S. about 1800 and landed in Florida, which was then Spanish Territory. They subsequently went inland to Georgia, and later to Mississippi. One of the Brothers (Fred) went north and was not heard from again.

The above information is from microfilm on the 1850 census.

I believe I have the answer to Fred Ishee. Since John and Jacob are listed in MS in the 1820 census and no Fred, but in 1830 Frederick Ishea (he is not their son) and again in 1850 as F. Ishee, must be Frederick again. As he was born in GA in 1805, it seems Fred had married Essense before 1805, who was born in GA. By 1820 Fred had come to MS and died leaving his wife Esense and son Frederick. By the information on microfilm Frederick had his mother, his children but no wife, she must have died too. I shall put more study on this.

Charcot-Marie-Tooth Disease

Case Report of Electroneuromyographic Abnormalities

JOHN L. ECHTERNACH, EdD

Key Words: Electromyography, Neural conduction, Charcot-Marie-Tooth disease.

Charcot-Marie-Tooth disease is characterized by muscular wasting of the feet, legs, distal thighs, and hands; sensory disturbances; clubbing of the feet; a stork-leg appearance; and foot drop. Charcot and Marie in Paris and Tooth in London first described the condition in 1886.^{1,2}

The onset, although usually noted by the time the patient is 20 years old, may be delayed until age 40 or 50. Hereditary factors are a predominant cause, but the disease is considered to be relatively rare. Nonhereditary cases may occur. The disease may be transmitted by either sex but is three to five times more common in men than in women.² The face, trunk, and girdle muscles are always spared from weakness. Objective sensory loss such as loss of vibration sense and position sense in the lower extremities is found in almost all cases. Decreased cutaneous sensation is commonly found. Loss of the ankle jerk reflex is an early manifestation. Knee jerk reflexes are lost only when there is involvement of the thigh muscles. Laboratory tests are normal except for disturbances of creatinine blood levels when muscle atrophy is extensive. The course of the disease is slowly progressive over many decades.²⁻⁴ Spontaneous arrest has been noted and rarely are individuals completely or totally incapacitated by muscular loss.¹⁻⁴

Dyck and Lambert described three manifestations of Charcot-Marie-Tooth disease.⁵ The first is the hypertrophic neuropathy type, which displays the classical picture associated with Charcot-Marie-Tooth disease, including hypertrophy of the peripheral nerves. The neuronal or second type has a later onset, no hypertrophy of nerve, and less hand weakness. Conduction velocities of the upper extremity are often normal and slowing in the lower extremity is not diffuse. The last is the progressive muscular atrophy type, in which conduction velocities are normal or only moderately slow and orthodromic sensory responses are normal. The major disease manifestation are muscular weakness and atrophy starting in the lower extremities and progressing to the upper extremities.⁵

Yudell and associates describe the Roussy-Lévy syndrome as Charcot-Marie-Tooth disease with superimposed tremor.⁶ Both the Roussy-Lévy syndrome and Charcot-Marie-Tooth diseases have been studied as hereditary disorders. Both diseases show abnormally slow conduction velocities in clinically normal relatives of involved patients. Marked slowing of nerve conduction velocity has been reported by all investigators of patients with Charcot-Marie-Tooth disease. Velocities of less than 20 m/sec are not uncommon.⁶⁻⁹ Electromyographic abnormalities have been reported as characteristically neuropathic with fibrillation potentials and positive sharp waves. Upon volitional contraction there is decreased motor activity, large motor units, and skewed or misshapen potentials with a large positive deflection.^{8,9} With severe disease, electrically silent muscles may be found.⁹

This case report is presented as a classic example of Charcot-Marie-Tooth disease, with characteristic findings in the history, clinical evaluation, and electroneuromyographic examination.

CASE REPORT

The patient was a 32-year-old active-duty Coast Guardsman who was transferred to the USPHS Hospital in Norfolk for evaluation. For the past year the patient had noted increasing difficulty in performing fine motor functions. The malfunction of the right upper extremity was worse than of the left upper

Dr. Echternach was Chief, Physical Therapy Department, US Public Health Service Hospital, Norfolk, VA, when this paper was written. He is now Associate Professor and Director, Technology Building 347, Program in Physical Therapy, Old Dominion University, Norfolk, VA 23508 (USA).

Portions of this paper were presented at the Mid-Winter Conference, SEEM Meeting, American Physical Therapy Association, Orlando, FL, February 1978.

This article was submitted February 22, 1979, and accepted May 21, 1980.

extremity. During the past several years he had noticed progressive weakness of both lower extremities, especially below the knee. The patient stated that four years prior to admission he had been examined by an orthopedic surgeon. Subsequently, surgery had been performed for hammer-toe deformities of the left foot.

The admitting physician noted decreased power in ankle dorsiflexion and eversion. The patient had obvious intrinsic muscle wasting of both upper extremities, with greater involvement on the right side. The patient had a weak pinch and weak thumb opposition. Distal muscle bulk was decreased in both upper extremities. He had only minimal involvement of the shoulder girdle.

The lower extremities had decreased muscle bulk below the knee, decreased position sense of the feet, and decreased vibratory sense in both lower extremities. Roentgenogram results of the cervical part of the spine, the lumbar part of the spine, and the chest region were negative. The usual laboratory evaluations were all normal. The patient's family history revealed both a brother and sister with foot deformities. He stated that his mother had a very high arched foot and that one sister had weakness in the ankles. On further questioning, he revealed that his father had always had bad feet, weak hands, and an awkward gait. He also noted that one sister was confined to a wheelchair because of marked weakness in both legs. Although the patient was performing duties over the past several years as a diesel mechanic, his supervisor had noticed that the patient was having increasing difficulty handling small objects.

The evaluation performed in the physical therapy department revealed the following data: range of motion of the extremities was normal, except that bilateral ankle dorsiflexion could only be accomplished to the neutral position. Manual muscle test of the upper extremities revealed a Zero grade for the abductor pollicis brevis and the opponens pollicis muscles. The flexor pollicis brevis and palmar and dorsal interossei muscles all were graded Poor to Fair. The adductor pollicis and hypothenar muscles were all graded as Good. Wrist flexors and extensors and all other muscles in the forearm and arm were Normal. Functionally, the patient was not able to oppose the thumb. He was, however, able to pick up small objects by using lateral pinch.

In the lower extremity, the peroneus longus and brevis, the extensor digitorum longus and brevis, and the extensor hallucis longus muscles were graded Zero bilaterally. The abductor hallucis and tibialis anterior muscles were graded as Trace. Tibialis posterior, gastrocnemius, and soleus muscles were graded as Fair. The flexor hallucis longus and flexor digitorum longus muscles were graded as Good (+). The quadriceps femoris muscle and hamstring muscle groups were Normal bilaterally.

On observation, a slight thoracic kyphosis was noted. On ambulation, the patient revealed a high-stepping gait resulting from an obvious bilateral foot drop. He had moderate difficulty in climbing stairs because of the weakness. The patient showed diminished ability to distinguish sharp and dull sensations over both the dorsal and palmar aspects of the thumb. There was also decreased sensation over the dorsum of both feet. Deep tendon reflexes could not be elicited at the ankle or knee or at the triceps or styloid muscles of the radius. The biceps tendon reflex was decreased bilaterally.

Motor and sensory nerve conduction findings are summarized in the Table. The motor nerve conduction was markedly slowed in all sites where it could be obtained. No response could be obtained in the peroneal or tibial nerves in either lower extremity. No sensory response could be obtained in the median and ulnar nerve in the upper extremities or on the sural nerve in the lower extremities.

TABLE
Nerve Conduction Velocities

	Right	Left
Upper extremities
Median nerve
Elbow to wrist	15 m/sec	17 m/sec
Upper arm to elbow	15 m/sec	8 m/sec
No sensory response obtained
Ulnar nerve
Elbow to wrist	17 m/sec	18 m/sec
Upper arm to elbow	8 m/sec	14 m/sec
No sensory response obtained
Lower extremities
Femoral nerve
Femoral triangle to adductor canal	15 m/sec	14 m/sec
No response to testing of peroneal, tibial, or sural nerves

Sampling by EMG was done on all four extremities. In the more distal muscles of the upper extremities, sparse fibrillation potential activity was found. Motor unit activity was markedly reduced, with some of these potentials being either polyphasic or giant motor units. Forearm muscles had partial interference patterns on full resistance. Only in the deltoid muscles and shoulder girdle was a full interference pattern demonstrable in the upper extremities.

A similar pattern was also found in the lower extremities. The peroneal nerve distribution was severely involved bilaterally, with no activity at rest or on volitional movement in the distal muscles. Muscles supplied by the femoral nerve also showed distal involvement, with abnormalities encountered in the vastus medialis muscle but nearly normal findings in the vastus lateralis muscle bilaterally.

Electromyographic abnormalities were typical of severe neuropathic disease, in which fibrillation potentials and positive sharp waves were found in some sites and no activity was found in other sites. Polyphasic potentials were found in many of the sampled sites. There was a marked to moderate decrease in interference pattern in many areas. Giant motor units were found in a scattered distribution. The more severely involved the muscle, the more likely there was to be electrical silence or a very marked decrease in interference pattern on attempted volitional movement.

SUMMARY

This patient showed many of the major clinical signs and electroneuromyographic features found in Charcot-Marie-Tooth disease. Electroneuromyographic examination revealed the characteristic severe slowing of conduction velocity and neuropathic muscle potentials. The electromyographic abnormalities correlated fairly well with muscle function, although muscle strength in general was surprisingly stronger than was anticipated. Goodgold and Eberstein have noted that dramatic slowing of conduction velocity cannot be directly related to severity of clinical symptoms.⁹ This patient seemed to demonstrate this principle.
